

January 13th

Today I found my expenditures have exceeded my funds. Not long after a most nefarious hate crime was perpetrated against me and I am further aggrieved that I have exhausted my supply of hors d'oeuvres. Indeed, it seems that misfortunes congregate upon one particular day. Before I retire, I mustn't neglect to mention that two different intelligence agencies have been investigating me, which perhaps I should not find entirely unexpected given events of late.

February 2nd

My formal education was terminated very early in life, and I have since devoted my time to preparing for my current occupation. I am pleased to say that my companions now all concur that I am assured a comfortable existence for my nom de guerre is universally recognized.

March 6th

Mother, I regret to inform you that I have just committed a homicide. I discharged my pistol into his skull and the wound was most fatal; I am very young, but now I fear my future seems bleak indeed. I never wanted you to weep for me and so if I have not returned within twenty-four hours please try to act as if what has passed this day is not of great import.

March 10th

I cannot begin to guess what the authorities will think should they locate him, but I'm sure that, regardless, he would be amused. Oh, he was a man of infinite Jest! Indeed, I believe that nothing shall ever cause him to leave my memory, much effort as I may put to removing him from my psyche.

March 12th

I must herewithin inform you of several facts about me. I have met extraterrestrials, have poor table manners; I have undergone Rhinoplasty multiple times and enjoy singing while very scantily clad. I am a transvestite fascist with a substance abuse problem and I make a living participating in blue films. I would love to describe my experience to you, so please attend to this letter. I beseech you.

April 7th

I pray you beware of temptation, but should you feel your resolve failing, seek enlightenment from the methods in which I have so painstakingly instructed you; and while I understand that your father has vexed you greatly, I fear patricide would certainly force you to seek another occupation.

July 5th

In my youth, my family and I were destitute and I regret to say that my parents had most reprehensible occupations. It is tautological when I say that I was despised by all my siblings. Now, at this date, the desire for life has so far slipped my grasp that I may end my pathetic Existence. I shall keep you apprised as I am contemplating sporting activity as an alternative.

July 9th

Now that I have left my home country I find that I must make considerable changes in my behavior. I am companionless in my new community and I therefore plan to make a constructive change in my music habits so as to assimilate here. I also need to secure myself a Residence and Furnishings and I also must be sure to have a pocketful of the customary means of procurement in this region.

August 14th

Father, please do not seek to moralize at me, for I have late been suffering through bouts of insomnia. I must ask you not to orate at me, as I am well aware of the severity of my situation. I have contemplated deeply and now must inform you of my decision not to terminate my pregnancy.

October 1st

I find looking back upon those days that it was clear we were having issues when you imperiled me during my daily ablutions for the second time. But still you are dear to me, so I ask that you please disarm yourself for my sake and know that I find most endearing the way you carefully prepare my breakfast.

October 8th

I have been informed that you have decided to consort with a man you find a better match. Heed this notice that after this letter I will have removed you from my acquaintance. I have mutilated every portrait of you I possessed and so as to banish your memory I razed one of our former rendezvous. I tell you that you shall not see me shed a tear; I rejoice that you've abandoned me for someone else and spending any more time in your presence would be far more painful than bleeding internally forever.

October 11th

At one point he met a likely mate, but failed to pursue the relationship as diligently as perhaps he should have. He then started a career in agriculture and purchased a rather novel domicile. I am also in a position to tell you that he prepares one entree particularly well. Naturally, all this transpired before he rescued a stranger who subsequently aided him in entering his current line of work.

November 4th

I must relate to you a most curious occurrence: I had just settled down when I heard a rapping at my chamber door. Thrice I asked my visitor to declare himself and thrice he did not reply. At last I found that I had no other choice but to open the door and see for myself the identity of the interloper. Alas, my worst fears were realized! He barged directly in and claimed his most prized possession as his own. In vain, I tried to reason with the brute, but at length even my most persuasive arguments were insufficient and I was compelled to resort to violence.

December 3rd

It is simply shameful how he has let his physique deteriorate. He has descended too far into Indolence and it is in grave doubt whether he could perform the feats of his youth in his present capacity. He has even gone so far as to abandon the accouterments of his glory days, tho at least he is not homeless, for he has found a new vocation.
